

The Coyote pop-up display system combines strength, reliability, and style in a lightweight and easy to use pop-up panel system. The aluminum frame connects together with rare earth magnets in the hubs and on the self-aligning magnetic bars, making this system a snap to setup and take down. It packs into an oval shipping case which can be converted into a podium. There are a variety of options available, including back-lit logo cutouts, fully back-lit panels, monitor cutouts, and magnet-on graphics.
